HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Ladies' Auxiliary No. 7, Providence, are preparing to celebrate their anniversary on October 25.

Division 3 will meet Monday night. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to be transacted.

An Irish piper was an important feature of the thirty-third annual outing of the Hibernians of Passaic county, N. J.

The Hibernians of Indianapolis held a highly successful Irish field day. The contests in the athletic events were all spirited.

Division 4 will meet Wednesday night. Several important matters will be discussed, among them the organization of a military company.

Division 5, of Providence, has offered a prize of one year's dues free to the member bringing in the greatest number of new members prior to December 13.

Five divisions of the order will meet in Providence tomorrow to make arrangements for the suitable celebration of the centenary of Robert Emmet's execution.

Division 12 was recently established at Lafayette, N. J. Thirty members were initiated and State President Brennan presided. County President Kennedy installed the new officers.

Division 1 of New Albany will attend mass at Holy Trinity church at 8 o'clock tomorrow and will offer up their holy communions for the repose of the souls of dead members of the division.

Division 1 will hold an important meeting Tuesday night, when arrangements will be made for the initiation to be held on September 22. Members of Division 1 will also plan to assist the Ladies' Auxiliary in the Emmet celebration.

A cadet corps for sons of members of the order has been organized in Hartford, Conn. The cadets drill twice a week and recently made an excellent showing in a street parade. The Hibernians of Utica, N. Y., are organizing a cadet corps along similar lines.

County Secretary Broderick, of Covington, has extended a cordial invitation to Hibernians of Louisville to visit his town the latter part of this month to witness the exemplification of the degrees by the Covington team. The exact date has not been fixed.

At a recent meeting of Division 5, of Providence, Charles P. Bradley, a prominent attorney of Philadelphia, delivered an address on the history of the order since its institution, in the sixteenth century, of its progress from its origin till 1890 when it numbered 56,000 in the United States, and now thirteen years later, 121,000 members and a Ladies' Auxiliary numbering 50,000.

REMEMBER SOWDERS.

The Kentucky Irish American desires to call attention to the advertisement of James Sowders, dealer in fish and oysters, 159 West Jefferson street. The oyster season is now open and he will have on hand at all times a fresh and plentiful supply of the succulent bivalves.

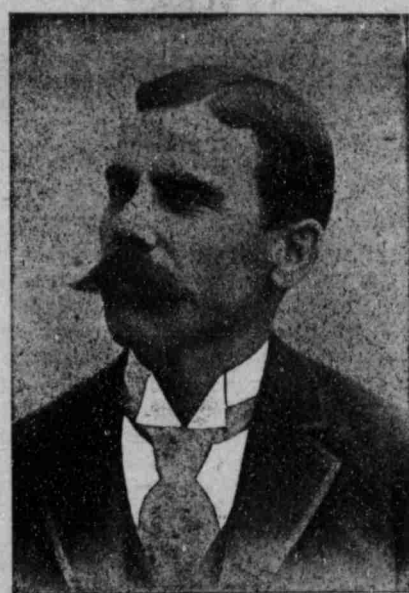

SATOLLI COUNCIL.

Satolli Council, Young Men's Institute, held a well attended meeting Monday night, with President Harry Colgan in the chair. One application for membership was received. The committee appointed to assist in making arrangements for the reception and entertainment of delegates to the Grand Council reported progress.

HIS FRIENDS

Insist On James B. Kelly's Candidacy For Grand President.

The many friends of James B. Kelly, of Trinity Council, Young Men's Institute, have insisted upon his becoming a candidate for Grand President of the Kentucky jurisdiction. His election to that office would be a splendid recognition of his services in behalf of the order. Mr. Kelly displayed great executive ability as President of Trinity Council a few years ago, and this, his friends believe, is a criterion of his fitness for Grand President. He has served his council as delegate to the Grand Council and has always served on important committees. Mr. Kelly has ever been a hard worker and any business allotted to him has been attended to with promptness and dispatch. This same worthy member has been largely instrumental in increasing the membership of Trinity Council during the past year. He holds an important position at the City Hall under the Board of Public Works and is deservedly popular with the city officials. In the event that others enter the race for Grand President they will find in James B. Kelly a foeman worthy of their steel.

MASONIC THEATER.

A dramatic event of more than ordinary importance is the coming of the comedy success, "Are You A Mason?", which is booked for presentation in this city at the Masonic Theater beginning with a Labor day matinee next Monday. The demand for the attraction was so great last year that two companies were necessary to supply the time bid for by managers. The piece was played up to July 4 and one month intervened before the company was called to rehearse for the winter tour. The action of the piece revolves about one Amos Bloodgood of Rockford, Ill., who, without any knowledge of the workings and ritual of Masonry, tries to make his wife believe that, in accordance with her wishes, he has joined an order, when in reality he has not. He is obliged to resort to all manner of subterfuge, and he becomes involved in endless difficulties in his endeavors to explain his conduct. He is finally unmasked by a bona-fide Mason, and in the end satisfies his wife by acceding to her wish.

SORDID INTERESTS.
Sordid interests may gain wealth and high social standing, but they destroy the beauty of the soul, and consequently leave a void that no realized ambition can fill. It is not so much the prize gained that brings true success, but rather the noble qualities that achieved the gaining. It is far better to suffer for truth than prosper by falsehood, and better also that the world know you as a sinner than God as a hypocrite. Thomas a Kempis puts success in a nutshell, when he says, "Remember, thy prerogative is to govern, and not to serve, the things of this world." It is by the proper governing of ourselves that we master the difficulties that beset us and gain the strength to rule wisely and well our daily affairs. Abraham Lincoln teaches us what true success is in the following words: "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."
